Dear Colleagues,

Yesterday at the Board Of Trustees meeting, Vice Chancellor of Finance Fred Williams was asked "where did this estimate come from?" in regards to the $134,500 they plan on spending towards fact-finding to fight their own faculty. He responded "it came out of my head."

There was no further discussion and the amount was approved. This is tax payer money that is being spent based on a number that came out of Fred Williams' head without any rationale or critical discussion.

Once again, Chancellor Marshall and the Trustees have done nothing about a group of administrators that seem to operate without transparency and accountability. Here's a link to the video of Fred Williams' response:

Finally, please don't forget that it's Red Shirt Wednesday!
